

New DHS-Net Technology Site

DHS-Net has been updated and reorganized to provide DHS staff with a single resource for all technology-related information, including DHS System Availability, Technology Announcements and Tools and Resources. To take full advantage of the new site, bookmarks can be added to directly access frequently visited information. Any previously created bookmarks to links that have now moved under the Technology page will need to be recreated.